RE: United States v. Gustavo Chavez
22 Cr. 303 (JMF)

Dear Judge Furman,

I write in connection with Gustavo Chavez's bail conditions. On August 23, 2024, Mr. Chavez was referred and scheduled for nuclear medicine imaging on August 27, 2024, in connection with his emergent prostate cancer concerns. The prescription has been received by Pre-Trial Services Officer Marlon Ovalles. The NM scan requires the temporary removal of Mr. Chavez's ankle monitor, to which Officer Ovalles does not object.¹ Indeed, Officer Ovalles is prepared to temporarily remove the ankle monitor and reinstall it following Mr. Chavez's procedure tomorrow, should the Court approve this application.

I thank the Court for its time and consideration of this motion.

Respectfully Submitted,

Andrew John Dalack, Esq.
Assistant Federal Defender

¹ Officer Ovalles wrote the Court and the parties on Friday, August 23, 2024, noting that Pre-Trial Services has no objection to removing the ankle monitor, as long as Mr. Chavez reports back to Pre-Trial Services within 24 hours after the procedure. I have not been able to connect with Government counsel, but note that the Government did not object to an extension of Mr. Chavez's surrender date so that he could make his August 23, 2024, medical appointment and any necessary follow-up.
